DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT.
- (e) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC.
- (f) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
  - (1) Field of the Invention.
  - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (g) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (h) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (i) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (j) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (l) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: on page 2, lines 11 and 2, the reference to claim numbers to disclose the invention is not a proper way of disclosing the invention since the claims' numbering and limitations are subject to change throughout prosecution.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 4, 5, 7 and 8 are objected to because of the following informalities: in claim 4, line 3, --the-- should be inserted before "gripping elements", and "such" should read --the--. Appropriate correction is required.
3. The claims are objected to because reference characters corresponding to elements recited in the detailed description of the drawings and used in conjunction with the recitation of the same element or group of elements in the claims should be deleted so as to avoid confusion with other numbers or characters which may appear in the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
5. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
6. A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claims 1-3 recite the broad recitations "any type on foam cushion components of a seat", "by means of a drive" and "by linear movement" respectively, and the claims also recite "a vehicle seat in particular", "a drive in the form of a spring mechanism", and "in particular by means of a linear drive" respectively, which are the narrower statements of the ranges/limitations.

Claim 1 recites the limitations "the seat cover" and "the respective gripping element" in lines 4 and 6 respectively. There is insufficient antecedent basis for these limitations in the claim.

Claim 6 recites the limitations "the two longitudinal seams", "the seams in pairs", and "the three transverse seams" in lines 5-6. There is insufficient antecedent basis for these limitations in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3726

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1-4, 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tillner (US Patent 6,629,346).

With regards to claim 1, Tillner discloses a device 100 for mounting seat covers 30 on foam cushion parts 20 of a seat, the device having gripping elements 90 grouped in actuation groups (col. 3, lines 56-67, col. 4, lines 1-2 and fig. 1), which perform the function of receiving profiled strips 31 arranged on the seat cover (figs. 2a-2c), by means of a positioning mechanism (50, 71) that allows relative movement between the foam cushion part 20 and each gripping element (col. 3, lines 51-55), wherein the profiled strips 31 are drawn into channel like recesses 21 in the foam cushion part (fig. 2a) in order to thereby fix the seat cover to the foam cushion part.

Regarding claim 2, see figures 3a and 4a.

Regarding claim 3, see column 3, lines 59-64.

Regarding claim 4, see support component 50 and figure 1.

Regarding claims 9 and 10, see column 3, lines 56-64.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tillner.

Tillner discloses a device for mounting seat covers on foam cushion components of a seat as shown above. Although Tillner does not specifically disclose the gripping elements numbering twelve or the claimed arrangement of the gripper elements, however it is within the general knowledge of one of ordinary skill in the art to provide the appropriate number of gripper elements and to move the gripper elements individually or by groups as attested by Tillner. Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, to have provided twelve gripper elements in the device of Tillner and to have arranged the gripper elements in appropriate actuation groups, as is within the general knowledge of one of ordinary skill in the art.

Allowable Subject Matter

11. Claims 5, 7 and 8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
